Subject: RE: Microsoft Settlement

I am in total favor of the government settling its claim against Microsoft. In my opinion, I feel it was a bogus, costly, unjustifiable law suit. It would behoove the government to spend taxpayer money on more critical issues than going against a successful company that has done nothing but bring prosperity to this country. Someone in Washington, DC got greedy and a little sidetracked with special interest groups in its pursuit of Microsoft. It's time the Democrats worked for the good of this country and got off the political merry-go-round it so intently works to nourish.
